

Tactical Entry to Methamphetamine Laboratories

Hosted by:
United States Attorney’s Office – Eastern and Western Districts of Michigan
Northeast Counterdrug Training Center
Michigan Institute for Public Safety and Education – Wayne County Community College
MAGLOCLEN

This course is designed for law enforcement officers who are required to make entry and secure a methamphetamine lab prior to the assessment or processing. Classroom instruction includes types of methamphetamine labs, physical and chemical hazards associated with tactical response to methamphetamine labs, and respiratory protection. Raid planning and protective clothing and equipment are also covered in the classroom. Scenario-based training follows classroom instruction. During scenario-based training, students will use protective equipment while executing search warrants into suspected lab sites. Respiratory protection consisting of an air purifying respirator or a self-contained breathing apparatus will be used while clearing the house, along with simunition guns.
