

YOU'RE INVITED

Join us at a world-class event that embodies our commitment to adolescent targeted violence prevention.

January 16 & 17 • Lansing, MI

Michigan State University's Prevent 2 Protect Project has teamed up with Safe and Sound Schools for a Midwest School Safety Summit developed around our shared imperative: 'Prevent to Protect.' This collaborative effort is further reinforced by our region's strong desire for continued support following recent critical incidents of violence on K-12 and higher education campuses and will feature national best practices, methods, and programs for a truly comprehensive approach to school safety.

Register: safeandsoundschools.org/events

Featured MSU Speakers & Session Preview

 "Paw Paw" High School Case Study

Alyse Folino Ley, DO

Co-Director, Prevent 2 Protect, MSU's Department of Psychiatry

Frank Straub, PhD

Co-Director, Prevent 2 Protect, Safe and Sound Schools

Additional Inspiring & Engaging Speakers

Michele Gay | Executive Director, Safe and Sound Schools

Michele Gay, Co-Founder of Safe and Sound Schools, chose to take action after losing her daughter Josephine Grace on December 14, 2012 in the Sandy Hook School tragedy. Since that time, Michele has channeled her work as an advocate, improving safety and security in schools and communities across our country.

 Finding Forward: Recovery Perspectives from Columbine to Sandy Hook

Frank DeAngelis | Retired Principal Columbine High School

Frank DeAngelis was the principal of Columbine High School on April 20, 1999 when one of deadliest school shooting in U.S. history took place. Now retired, he presently serves as a consultant for safety and emergency management for the Jeffco School District in Colorado and as an advisor for Safe and Sound Schools.

 Finding Forward: Recovery Perspectives from Columbine to Sandy Hook

Larry Johnson | President Elect, NASSLEO

Larry is the President Elect of NASSLEO and currently sits on the Michigan State University School Safety Advisory Committee. He is a former Michigan police officer, a published author, curriculum developer, and national instructor with expertise in threat assessment, emergency response, crisis management, targeted school violence, and community policing.

 School Safety In And Around the Midwestern U.S.

Missy Dodds | Red Lake Shooting Survivor

On March 21, 2005, Missy's life was forever changed. A former student shot his way into her classroom at Red Lake High School where he killed a co-worker and five of her students before taking his own life. Over the past 16 years, Missy has worked hard on her own healing journey and has become a school safety and a mental health advocate.

 Choosing to Survive

Register now to join MSU's Prevent 2 Protect Project and Safe and Sound Schools at the Midwest School Safety Summit on January 16 & 17.

